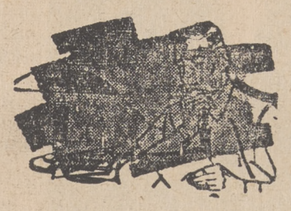
The DIMMER VIEW



by Max Goodwin

Law Enforcement Should Be Tougher

Several years ago a group of Lemon Grove men were meeting regularly several times a week for luncheon and fellowship.

One of the group, a cabinetmaker by trade, was saddled with what had to be the most miserable wife in town.

They hated each other with a passion, which is not of great importance to anyone else since neither of them would ever have gotten a call in a beauty contest.

She showed her disfavor in their business life as well as their private existence, but he continued to live with her because of the business which had grown extremely large and he didn't want to sacrifice the years of toil it took to build the business fortune.

He discussed the matter openly at the luncheon. In macabre jest, we suggested that he kill her, cop a plea, spend a couple of years in prison, and come back into the world a happy and unshackled man. He at first showed a degree of shock at the idea — until one day, a week or so later, he announced in his quiet and sincere way,"I'm going to do it."

Then there was a scurrying, like rats in a trap, to un-convince him that murder was the answer. Besides, who wanted to be an accessory to a slaying?

A few months later he did what he had to do. He packed and left. He has not been back in the town since.

The point is that even ten years ago the penalties for crime — in this case, murder — were extremely light. So light that a sincere person had to wrestle with himself to avert murder as a solution to a marital problem.

Today, if the situation arose again, instead of a couple of years of incarceration it would be more like a couple of months, with psycho, rehab aid and probation department benefits thrown in as a bonus.

The truth is that its harder to get in jail in California than it is to get out. Commit a felony and your chance of going to jail is less than one in a hundred.

If you are caught and arrested, your chances are a little more than two in a hundred of going to prison. If you are convicted of a felony, your chances of being behind bars is less than 10 per cent.

Take the word of a concerned State Senator — H. L. Richardson of Arcadia — that crime pays. But he wants to take the profit out of it!

The criminal who is unlucky enough to find himself behind bars — the one out of a hundred — is going to get out in 36 months on the average. Sirhan Sirhan will have to stay in prison five years for the Kennedy assassination a court decided just last week.

Richardson says there is a whole bag of tricks to get the criminal out sooner than his sentence prescribes. There's the six-month work-furlough program, the 72-hour pass, and the minimum security facility such as Chino which boosts a 9-hole golf course. If you don't believe it, write Richardson's office and he'll send you a photograph of it.

He has presented senate bills that would put an end to this kind of stupidity. Stupidity such as in Pomona where they have arrested 23 people out on a work-furlough for committing further acts of violence.

Another of Richardson's gripes is the college enrollment program. A prisoner may go to college. A number of enrollments are set aside for prisoners. An average, law-abiding youth with an A average might not be accepted. But as a prisoner he would be welcome. The penalty-reward system has been reversed. One of his bills to change this was rejected because it seemed a little too tough on the criminal, he said.

He has other complaints, too. He believes a criminal should serve at least his minimum sentence. A five-year sentence does not mean five years at all. The prisoner is eligible for parole in just 20 months. Counting dead time — time spent in county jail — a felon could be back on the streets in less than one-third of his minimum sentence. Richardson tried to correct this with his S.B. 308. It was defeated.

Some persons deserve parole. Parole means that he has more time to serve but he's been a good boy and is rehabitatible. Richardson's S.B. 430 said that if a parolee commits another felony, and is convicted of the second in court, he will have to go back to prison and finish his first sentence. You'd think that's the procedure now but it isn't. Yet, his S.B. 430 lost!

Seven crimes are committed every five minutes in California — major crimes. There are more and more people bleeding on the streets of California because of this penal idiocy, Richardson avers.

If you are fed up with criminal wrist-slapping and want it changed, let your legislator know you prefer tough law enforcement. If he doesn't agree with you, you can replace him when you go to the polls.

No Decision Reached On Helix Rate Plan

The situation deteriorated somewhat last week for the Helix Irrigation District Board of Directors, as directors attempted to untangle the rate change and budget mess for the 1972-73 year.

Two weeks ago, it seemed that directors favored a change to a flat rate water charge, to replace the current spiraling rate over a five-year period. The current system calls for a smaller charge per unit as the number of units increases, enabling large water users to get water at a lower cost per unit.

What that amounts to is that the smaller water users subsidize the larger users to an extent. The larger water users, to a degree, cost the district less for administrative and operational costs, but probably not to the extent of the discount presently offered. The current rate calls for rate charges ranging from 50 cents to 15 cents per 100 cubic feet.

Apparently, however, budget discussions, which started last week, caused some problems. The anticipated $1.3 million deficit of the preliminary budget loomed large.

What the district had hoped for was a reduction in the deficit through budget cuts and a rate increase to make up the remainder of the deficit.

No decisions have been reached on the budget or the rate structure, but it is expected that directors will try to get the rate structure settled before Monday, which is the deadline if they wish to inaugurate a change for the next billing period.

S.D. Man Held In Local Kidnap Case

An 18-year-old San Diego man was arrested last Tuesday afternoon at "Hanson's Pond" in Spring Valley on charges of kidnap and assault with a deadly weapon.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, the suspect allegedly grabbed a 14-year-old junior high school student who was fishing at the pond, displayed a knife in a threatening manner, and tied the youngster with his own belt and left him behind some bushes.

The youngster, who had been there with a friend, told deputies that a short time after being left behind the bushes, he was released by the suspect when deputies anything about the occurance. arrived and told not to say

Valle de Oro Program Gets Official Approval

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — County supervisors have approved the largest community planning program in terms of people, yet attempted for the unincorporated territory.

The Valle de Oro Planning Association now has official recognition and a long work program ahead of it.

The area contains Spring Valley, Grossmont, Casa de Oro, La Presa, Rancho San Diego, Mt. Helix, Calavo Gardens — and an estimated 48,000 people.

Royal Dieter, executive committee chairman, made a brief presentation to the board on the planning effort.

What took a lot of time was the insistance of residents of two areas for exclusion from the boundaries.

The board finally acceeded to the wishes of these persons from Brookside and an area just east of Avocado blvd.

Brookside has now successfully stayed out of two community planning areas, the other being Lemon Grove.

Mrs. Diane Klostermeier has had a running battle with the county for years because of the open ditch that runs through the middle of Brookside, and, in fact, forms the center divider strip for the main access road.

Brookside has a La Mesa post office address, a hill separating it from both east and west from other areas, and a lot of drainage out of La Mesa.

Members of the Board of Supervisors tried to convince Mrs. Klostermeier that her area has planning problems with involvement beyond the boundaries of the subdivision.

She did not say much, but gave the board a petition signed by 425 persons wanting exclusion.

Supervisor Jack Walsh expressed the final decision of the board by saying: "We've got groups that want community planning that we have turned down for lack of staff, time and money. We certainly should not try to sell the program."

Only Supervisor Harry Scheidle voted against the exclusions. He said it was simply a bad practice to leave windows in planning areas.

Planning officials said that planning will likely include the two areas anyway as community planning groups often plan for areas beyond their boundaries.

Fire Brings 'Heat' On Spring Valley Residence

An apparent electrical fire that did about $25 damage to a Spring Valley house caused more problems for the occupants of the house than it did for the structure last week.

According to reports from the Spring Valley Fire Department, the blaze in an attic at 3627 South Cordoba started at about 7:30 p.m. June 12 and was quickly extinguished by crewmen.

After the fire was out, firemen noted that the attic contained several potted plants and that the attic had been rigged as a hot house, complete with sun lamps, which were credited as the cause of the blaze.

About two hours later, the occupants of the home were arrested on charges of cultivation of marijuana, possession of marijuana, and posession of marijuana paraphernalia.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, the fire fighters reported that the potted plants appeared to be marijuana, resulting in several patrol cars at the scene shortly after the fire was put out.

Deputies contacted the occupant of the house, Jeffery C. Landers, who reportedly refused them admittance. Deputies then started going through the red tape of obtaining a search warrant.

While the warrant was being sought, another occupant of the home, Mary L. Sloan, arrived, and deputies asked her for permission to enter the home in connection with the marijuana report, but she also refused.

Deputies reportedly remained outside the house until the warrant arrived, watching through the windows what was reported as peculiar activity. The occupants of house apparently "scurried about in a hurried manner", with particular activity centering around the kitchen and bathroom areas of the house.

When the search warrant arrived at approximately 8:15 p.m., deputies entered the house and noted a plastic bag containing what was believed to be marijuana on the living room floor. Both Miss Sloan and Landers were arrested at that time and charged with possession of marijuana.

A thorough search of the house ensued, and the following evidence was taken, according to reports from the Sheriff's Department:

Six baggies containing greenish vegetable matter, believed to be marijuana; three corn-cob pipes with an odor commonly associated with burned marijuana; two water pipes, also with an odor of marijuana; one plastic bag containing white crystals; one plastic bag containing a white powder; one book listed as a guide to growing marijuana; a quantity of burned vegetable matter taken from the broiler portion of the stove; one vacuum cleaner containing dirt and particles of vegetable matter; and miscellaneous cans containing moist soil and particles of vegetable matter.

Food Market Owner Arrested

A Lemon Grove food market owner was arrested last week and charged with arson and intent to defraud an insurance company in connection with the alleged attempt to burn down Reo Food Market, 2304 Reo dr., Paradise Hills.

According to reports from the San Diego Police Department, Fred Atto, 42, of 4320 Point View Court, Lemon Grove, was arrested shortly after 9 p.m. after officers investigated a report that a man was seen inside the market.

Fire officials told Atto, who was outside the building when they arrived, that they wanted to investigate an odor of gasoline, apparently coming from inside the market. Using the owner's keys, officers entered the building, where they found several incendiary devices intricately set, according to reports.

Guest Heads Lemon Grove Crusade Drive

Robert L. Guest, vice-president and manager of the Lemon Grove United States National Bank branch, has been named local community chairman for the 1972 United Crusade which kick-offs on September 27.

The Lemon Grove chairman is now recruiting community division chairmen for business, public service and professional solicitation. In line with early recruitment of top level leadership in every community, all chairmen will be named this year by July 1.

With a San Diego county-wide goal of $6,882,111 — an increase of $1 million more than was raised last year — all community chairmen are accepting the challenge to raise the money required to support community needs. The Lemon Grove United Crusade goal will be announced by Guest in July.

Storm Surprises Rain Watchers

The "surprise" storm Tuesday left .38 inches of rain in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley areas to bring the season's total to 6.75. Last year, at this time, the total had reached 11.04 inches. The 8-year average is 12.71 inches.

There is little likelihood that the total will reach last year's figure as the rain year ends next week on June 30. The storm, accompanied by lighting, caused electrical outages in El Cajon.

At the height of the storm a Los Angeles radio commentator was describing the weather in San Diego as "bright and sunny."

Pyle Gets Mt. Miguel Position

Dr. Robert Pyle, who has served as assistant principal at Mt. Miguel High School the past two years, was named Monday night by the Grossmont Union High School District Board of Trustees to replace Melvin C. Grant as principal of the local school.

Pyle, who holds a bachelor of arts degree and a Phd from USIU, was selected from seven candidates after screening by the district's selection committee.

Pyle's strong points include excellent relations with the community and the school, a good knowledge of the position after serving as Grant's "right hand man", educational background, and youth.

He holds credentials in general-secondary, general pupil personal service, and standard supervision.

He first came to the local high school district in 1964 as a teacher at Granite Hills High School. After one semester as a teacher, he was named a counselor at Grossmont High School. In 1966 he became dean of students at Helix High, and was named vice principal at Helix in 1969, where he served until his present position.

The 42-year-old Pyle is married and is the father of two youngsters, aged 17 and 14. His wife is a teacher at Granite Hills.

Its Hotdog Time Again At LG Picnic

Hot dogs, soft drinks, beer and kiddies games are on tap for the annual Old Time Days picnic July 4th at the Green Spot park, Washington and Alton, Lemon Grove.

There will also be music to the dulcet strains of Bill Tabor and his aggregation.

Don McCrae, picnic chairman, said that a larger than normal turnout is expected for the affair due to the day of the holiday. "When it occurs near a weekend families often go out of town on camping trips," McCrae said.

Admission to the day-long affair is free. Officially, the hours are 10 a.m. - 6 p.m.

Families should bring their own lunch.

LG Fire Report

The Lemon Grove Fire Department, for the week of June 12-19, answered nine fire calls and one rescue call.

Only one fire call involved property damage: On June 17, at 4:06 p.m., firemen went to the "U-Wash" at 7143 Broadway. There they found a washer had an electric short, causing an estimated $10 in damage.

Mail Bag

Dear Editor,

It is with deep gratitude that the San Diego Ashbrook for President Committee thanks the many true Republicans who supported Congressman John Ashbrook in the presidential primary election.

In view of the fact that the Ashbrook Committee had little money (under $5,000 in County and under $35,000 in State), could get very little publicity in the press, and incurred the wrath of the "Nixon Party" people for exercising our right of free choice, we did very well.

It is a joy to know that there are 20,463 (220,289 statewide) Republicans who have the courage of their convictions and would stand firm for traditional Republican principles.

We wish we could know and thank each one personally. Congressman Ashbrook and the San Diego Committee appreciate your support.

Thank you,
Ashbrook for President Committee
Anna Dewey, Chairman.

"Acabar con", suggests the idea "to exhaust" or "to use up." This may be seen in the expressions "Vamos a acabar con los recursos del pais." (We are going to exhaust the resourses of the country), or "Es posible acabar con los recursos de petroleo." (It is possible to exhaust petroleum resources.)

Professional Journalists Pick Chula Vista Senior For E. R. Anderson Award

Kena Ann Warrick, 18, a graduating senior from Hilltop High School in Chula Vista, is the recipient of the first E. Robert Anderson Journalism Scholarship offered by the San Diego Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic society, and the Sigma Delta Chi Foundation.

Miss Warrick will receive $1,000 a year for four years' study of journalism at the college or university of her choice.

The scholarship, established earlier this year by the San Diego SDX Chapter, is named in honor of Capt. E. Robert Anderson, USN, ret., who retired in 1969 as director of editorial policy for the Copley Newspapers. Anderson is now editor emeritus of Copley Newspapers.

The scholarship was awarded to Miss Warrick, as she graduated, by Anderson and Frank Stone, San Diego SDX chapter president.

Funds for the annual scholarship come from the Sigma Delta Chi Foundation, a nonprofit corporation established to provide journalism scholarship money.

In presenting the scholarship, Anderson said:

"It is particularly pleasing to me to act for San Diego Chapter, Sigma Delta Chi, in presenting a young lady with your high record of achievement in journalism studies with the first chapter scholarship check.

It is the hope of the chapter that the money awarded you will be the stepping stone to a future which offers so much to women in the Fourth Estate.

When I began my newspaper career on a metropolitan newspaper, we enjoyed the association of only two women. Today women have won equal standing with men in journalism and the field is unlimited for your progress."

Miss Warrick said she plans to enter San Diego State College for her education in journalism.

She was chosen on recommendation of a San Diego SDX Chapter Scholarship Committee which considered application for the scholarship from high school seniors throughout the county.

Miss Warrick has worked on the staff of Hilltop High's newspaper, the Idyll. She also has been a student teacher of journalism at Hilltop Junior High School, where she also assisted in publishing the school's newspaper.

Red Cross Opens Drive

S. K. Emery, San Diego County Chapter chairman for American National Red Cross, announced last week that an emergency appeal for $56,011 to help victims of the South Dakota floods has been launched.

"George Elsey, President of the American National Red Cross, has announced that nation-wide, a $5 million campaign is being conducted to assist not only the victims of the South Dakota floods, but victims of the recent South Texas floods, Kentucky floods, Buffalo Creek, West Virginia floods and the increasing serious situation in the Northwestern United States," Emery said.

"Few times in this century has the Red Cross been faced with a catastrophe of the magnitude of Rapid City," he said, "and for us to assist these victims, the victims of other recent disasters and for the National organization to continue to respond to other emergencies, this money must be raised."

"Red Cross Chapters throughout the United States have been strongly urged to participate in the Emergency Disaster Relief Operations Appeal. Each has been assigned a quota," he said.

Emery announced that the United Community Services have not only fully agreed to the gial of the San Diego Chapter, but are urging support from residents and businesses of the county.

Bicycle Pathways Policy Outlined By James Moe, Public Works Director

A Department of Public Works policy which will lead to the incorporation of pedestrian and bicycle pathways into freeway construction was announced last week in Sacramento by Department Director James A. Moe.

Moe said his organization will work with city and county governments to develop a program, including funding for the construction and maintenance of bicycle lanes along state highways where separation will increase safety or the thoroughfare's capacity.

A new directive from Moe to the State Highway Engineer and the Chief of the Division of Bay Toll Crossings closely follows a report to the Department of Public Works from the Institute of Transportation and Traffic Engineering of the University of California. The report, requested by the State Assembly by concurrent resolution in 1971, was submitted to the legislature this week.

The report concerns itself primarily with the design of bicycle paths on or near existing and future thoroughfares in California. Commissioned at a cost of $78,000, the study is the first to bring together all pertinent information on bikeways into one reference work.

Communities throughout the state have been waiting for its publication before starting bikeways in order to provide continuity along highways. Moe's directive will provide that continuity, he said.

The bikeways study covers alternative designs for the paths, what grades are tolerable for them, what traffic volume they can carry, how they can best be separated from other traffic, the types of traffic control devices needed, and the potential construction cost, Moe said.

Moe explained that all sources of funding will be considered in cooperation with local governments. Revenue could include local funds, the State Highway monies, gasoline sales tax and all available Federal funds.

He added that the non-motorized highway user will be given full consideration in transportation planning, route planning and design for all highway projects.

Tax Relief Hike Due

Property tax relief payments for more than 240,000 qualified older homeowners in California will "at long last" be on "more than just a token basis" during 1972-73, State Controller Hugh Flournoy said last week.

"Broadened provisions of the Senior Citizens Property Tax Relief Act probably will increase the number of recipients from 56,000 to 240,000, and the total payments from $8 million to $56 million," Flournoy said.

"This means that four times as many claimants will benefit and that the per-claimant share will increase from about $148 to over $233. This gets to the real heart of property tax relief for those who are on fixed incomes.

"Since the 1967 Legislature first authorized the Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance program, there has been over $32.5 million paid to eligible homeowners," the Controller said. "It is significant that the new program will be 75 percent greater than that total in its first year."

"Any homeowner in California who reached the 62nd birthday by last January 1 and whose household income isn't over $10,000 owes it to himself aand his family to check with the Franchise Tax Board and determine the current status of his eligibility for this assistance which already has proved a great help to many older, fixed-income homeowners faced with dising property taxes," said Flournoy, who is chairman of the Franchise Tax Board.

Applications must be filed before October 15. Those needing additional information, assistance or forms may telephone any Franchise Tax Board office, or write to Senior Citizens Property Tax Relief, Post Office Box 1588, Sacramento 95807.

Lake Arrowhead To Be Scene Of UCSD Health-Fitness Class

An experience in relaxed, healthful living at Lake Arrowhead will be offered in July by University of California Extension, San Diego.

"The Look You Like" will provide an individualized program in physical fitness under the direction of Dr. Ted Forbes, chairman of the Department of Physical Education at UCSD, and Howard Hunt, the department's director of athletics.

Held at the UC Residential Conference Center on Lake Arrowhead, the programs will be July 5 through July 9, and July 19 through July 23. Total fee, including tuition, for each four-day session is $160.

Hunt, an author of Prentice Hall's new book Fitness in a Changing World, stresses that the program is not "just another fat farm."

"This will be an educational process," he explained. "We want people to learn about themselves so they know what to do to be healthy the rest of their lives."

Activities will center on vigorous, non-competitive exercise such as hiking, running, swimming, climbing and playing games, with alternating periods of relaxation. Time will also be devoted to health discussion, lectures on diet and ways for individuals to break the vicious cycle of fatigue and inactivity.

For enrollment information call 453-2000, ext. 2061.

Shakespeare Festival To Run Through Sept. 17

A fifteen week Festival of Shakespearean comedy and drama is scheduled this summer at San Diego's Old Globe Theatre. The 23rd San Diego National Shakespeare Festival will continue through September 17.

First to open was "The Merry Wives of Windsor" followed by "Love's Labour's Lost". The historical tragedy "King Richard III" will open July 11. All three plays will continue in rotating repertory through out the season.

The Old Globe Theatre in San Diego is renowned as one of the few structures in the world resembling the Globe Playhouse in London, built during the late sixteenth century, where William Shakespeare's plays were originally produced.

The only professional Shakespearean Repertory Company on the west coast is featured in all productions of the San Diego National Shakespeare Festival. Craig Noel is producing director.

Prior to all evening festival performances, English country dances, madrigal singers and munsicians and other entertainers will perform for the gathering audience on the greensward fronting the Old Globe Theatre in San Diego's Balboa Park.

"King Richard III", a tragic history of England, dramatically portrays the treacherous, disfigured Richard who murders and plots against his family and friends to ascend the English throne. "King Richard III" is considered one of Shakespeare's greatest tragedies.

Featured actors appearing in principal roles during the current Festival season are Marjorie Battles, Joseph Bird, Mary Doyle, Wayne Grace, Elizabeth Huddle, Michael Keenan, Barry Kraft, Sandy McCallum, Tom McCorry, Peter Nyberg, Christopher Reeve, Carl Reggiardo, Paul Rudd, Marilee Sennett, G. Wood and Antony Zerbe.

Festival performances are Tuesday through Sunday evenings at 8:30 p.m. plus Saturday and Sunday matinees at 2 p.m. Wednesday matinees will be included in the schedule starting July 12.

NO MORE SCHOOL — Students at Mt. Miguel High School had little time for studies last Thursday, and consequently had plenty of time for working crosswords, daydreaming, and drawing pictures on the blackboards. Thursday, the last day of school before summer vacation began, was a minimum day, with students and teachers wrapping up the school year after final examinations were completed. Some classes were served punch and cookies by teachers, and some teachers were served refreshments by their students. (Vince Broesch photo)

The next challenge for the league leaders was Musser and Sons, who fell, 9-3, despite seven walks and eight hits, stranding 11 runners. The third contest for Mary Browne was against the Giants, who tallied in the first inning to lead. Mary Browne evened the score in the fourth inning.

Roofers Eye Pennant After Three Victories

Hutchison Roofing put three victories together last week to move a step closer to the second-half season pennant in the Sky-Grove Pony League.

Robert Bryan took the mound for the Roofers in the first game and twirled a 5-hit, 9-5 victory over Ebco Steel, chalking up his eighth win of the year against a single loss.

In the second game, Chuck Parker handled the pitching chores in a 5-inning contest which was called because of the 12-run lead rule. Parker allowed two hits and struck out 10 enroute to the 13-1 decision.

In the third contest, Parker again drew the pitching assignment and collected a 7-2 decision with relief help from Robert Bryan.

Dave Taluban belted a solo homer for the Roofers in the first game and John Metcalf knocked one out for the Steelers in the third game.

Lido's Pizza knocked Ned's Outboard out of second place by winning two of three games. Kevin Stafford did it all for Lido's in the first game, twirling a 10-0 4-hitter and clobbering a pair of homers, a double, and a single.

Lido's won the second game with a less comfortable margin, 3-2. Mark Foster tossed the five-hitter for the win and weathered a home run by Ned's Ken Howe, his first of the year.

Ned's turned things around in the final game, a home run battle, 13-3. Kevin Stafford blasted a pair of round-trippers to move into a tie with Ned's Ken Heffernan for the league's home run crown. Both have ten circuit clouts.

Other homers included those by Ned's hitters Bobby Sparks, his second of the season, Earl Ritchey, his fifth, and Greg Johnson, his first.

In the only other games of the week, the LG Lions Club thumped Murphy Plumbing twice, 5-1 and 11-4, knocking the Plumbers into fifth place.

John Barrow tossed a six-hitter for the Lions in the first game and Neal Luscomb scattered seven hits in the second contest. John Tiumalu belted his fourth home run of the season in a losing cause.

A look at the standings shows Hutchison on top with an 8-2 mark, followed by the Lions in second at 6-3. Third place belongs to Ned's Outboard at 5-4, half a game ahead of Lido's Pizza and Murphy Plumbing at 5-5. Ebco Steel brings up the rear at 0-10.

Moose Lodge Knocks Off Berg; Luigi's Takes Over First Place

The lead changed hands again last week in the Spring Valley Little League pennant race, as Luigi's Restaurant won two games to claim first place.

Luigi's, tied with Berg Electric when play began last week, collected 7-1 and 7-5 decisions over Spring Valley Kiwanis. In the first contest, Luigi ace Jeff Whitley handled the pitching chores, and John Stillwell blasted a pair of doubles for the winners. In the second game, Luigi's trailed by a 4-1 count until the fourth inning when the lead changed hands for good.

While Luigi's was winning its games, Berg Electric was having problems with Moose Lodge. Moose trumped the Electricians in the first game by a 6-4 count, and nearly turned the trick again, losing 8-7 in the nightcap. In the first contest, Moose Lodge scored five times in the first frame and coasted to the victory.

In other action, S & H Martinizing split two games with Post Office, and Jackson Supply split a pair with Dial Finance.

Jim Murray tossed a five-hitter for Post Office in the first game with Martinizing, a 6-2 victory, despite a home run by Richard Sing. Martinizing evened things in the second game with a 12-3 victory, aided by Lloyd Stanley's four RBI's on a home run and a triple.

Dial Finance nearly swept two from Jackson Supply, winning the first encounter by an 8-6 count before dropping the second contest, 7-6. John Smith was the winning pitcher in the opener, tossing a four hitter and providing his own margin of victory with a two-run homer. He struck out 12 batters.

In he second game, Ernie Miller knocked a home run in the sixth inning to tie things at 6-6 for Dial, but Jackson scored the winning run in the last of the seventh when Rich Dawson was hit with a pitch while the bases were loaded.

In the intermediate league, Mission Bay Concrete won a pair of games to seize the lead in the second-half season with a 2-0 record. Mission blitzed Art's Lumber, 11-3, and 14-1.

Mission won the first-half pennant and the second-half crown would eliminate the need for a playoff game.

In the minor league, Colvell Insurance vaulted into second place with a pair of wins over NTC Morse Code School, 12-2 and 7-2. In the first game, Steve Latham belted a home run for the winners.

Stroh's Lomita Bowl continued undefeated by sweeping Boosters, although the first game went seven innings.

In the rookie league, Jackson Supply won two games to vault into first place as the second-half season began. Jackson topped Foster Freeze, 8-7 in seven innings, and knocked off Support Our POW's, 22-16, in seven innings.

Clark Beats O'Halloran In 10 Rounder

by Max Goodwin

A graceful, weaving California State heavyweight boxing champion outpunched a favorite San Diego giant slugger Friday night in a 10-round fracas at the Coliseum.

The state champ, Henry Clark at 6-3 and 215 pounds vs. Jack O'Halloran's 6-6 and 238½ pounds, outclassed the local favorite most of the way, in spite of a closed left eye which Clark claimed was the result of a head butt early in the fight.

Referee Hal Rickards apparently didn't see the butt and he also didn't see several extremely low blows by Clark. All scorekeepers gave the nod to Clark. Rickard's card was 4-3; Judges Fred Hayes was 4-3 and Frank Rustich 5-2; the S. D. Union scored 7-3 and we scored it 4-2. A near-capacity (3,000) audience was in attendance.

Another heavyweight fight is scheduled for June 30 pitting S. D. heavyweight Ken Norton against James J. Woody, New York's heavyweight title-holder who was shaded by Norton here last September. Woody has beaten Jose Luis Garcia, the only fighter yet to beat Norton. Norton with a 27-1 record is now rated world's 10th and 13th in separate rating services.

Lou Lake, Knockout Promotions, is fight promoter.

Charter bus transportation from the San Diego Zoo in Balboa Park to the new San Diego Wild Animal Park will continue to be available to the general public.

The service — offered by the Zoological Society of San Diego — will run every Wednesday and Sunday from the Zoo to the new development in the North County. Beginning July 1 the buses will leave the Zoo at 10 a.m. and return service from the Park to the Zoo is scheduled to depart at 2 p.m.

Cost of the service to adults is $5 and includes admission to the Nairobi Village entrance complex and a tour of the Park on the Wgasa Bush Line electric monorail train, as well as bus transportation to and from the Park. For children twelve through fifteen, the same package will cost $3.25, children two through eleven will pay $2.75.

Giants, Padres Tangle On 'Helmet Night' Fri.

The Padres and the Giants, antagonists on the field and in the standings, go at each other in an early showdown starting Friday night at the Stadium.

It's the first argument in an 11-game home stand for the Padres. And the young people present will be given a head-start on what promises to be a bang-up battle with the big boppers from the Bay.

Friday will be Helmet Night and 15,000 Padre souvenir batting helmets will be distributed, compliments of Let's-Dine-Out, to boys and girls 14 and under at the game.

The Padres and the Giants square off at 7:30 and the Let's-Dine-Out helmets will fit handsomely on young heads as soon as the gates open two hours earlier.

The teams will continue their rivalry Saturday night at 7:30 and on Sunday at 1 p.m. and then the Padres will entertain the high-flying Houston Astros Monday and Tuesday evenings.

The Atlanta Braves arrive for three mid-week games, a twi-night doubleheader at 6 p.m. Wednesday and a 7:30 game on Thursday.

Then the sizzling Reds of Cincinnati conclude the home stand with three weekend games. The annual God Bless America night and its gigantic fireworks post-game display, is the special feature on July 1.

The Giants, despite their slow start, present a severe challenge to the Padres who are determined to improve their year-end position in the standings.

"If we're going to top the Giants in the standings, we certainly can help ourselves in the next three games," said manager Don Zimmer. "Our players are axious for this series. It gives them the opportunity to show what they believe, that they are the better club."

Tickets for the Giants games as well as for all games on the home stand, are available now at the Padres Stadium ticket windows open daily and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and at Ticketron outlets throughout San Diego County.

Fashionettes Win Three To Lead 'Sox League

The Len's of Lemon Grove Fashionettes won three games last week to move into first place in the Lemon Grove Bobby Sox League standings.

At the beginning of the week's play, the Fashionettes were in third place behind co-leaders Lions Club Lionettes and Severin, Garzenelli and Stenbeck Orioles.

The Orioles managed to win one game on the week, a 25-7 decision over the Lido's Pizza Spicer, but dropped a second game, 10-9, to the Quota Club Midgets. The Orioles led in the second game, 9-5 after four innings, but the Midgets tallied in the sixth and seventh frames to claim the victory.

Things were even worse for the Lionettes, who fell to the Fashionettes 23-14 and forfeited a second contest with the Shaklee Products Nibblers, because not enough players showed up for the game.

Meanwhile the Fashionettes put together victories over the Lionettes, Nibblers, and Quasarettes to claim first place. The best game of the three was a 6-5 decision over the Quasarettes. The Lionettes led by a 6-0 count after six innings, but the Quasarettes rallied for five runs in the seventh inning before the rally was snuffed out.

In the week's only other games, the Lessees scored a come-from-behind decision over the Nibblers, 14-13, and the Midgets scored 20 runs in the first inning and continued hot bats until they collected a 53-3 nod over the Spicers.

In the minor league, the Emeralds and Crickets continued their winning ways, both teams winning a pair of contests. The Crickets lead the league at 15-1 and the Emeralds are second at 14-2.

Speedy/Mac's Wins Tenth Straight Game

Speedy 7-11/Mac's Drive In won its tenth straight game last week to remain tied for the Spring Valley Bobby Sox League lead with Delp Plastering.

Speedy/Mac's blasted the Boosters, 16-5, and sent Easter Plumbing into third place, 14-1. Prior to the week's action, all three teams were tied for the top spot.

Delp Plastering kept pace with a pair of wins, a 2-1 eight-inning affair over Lomita Bowl, and a 17-6 tromping of Wilford's Wildcats.

The top game of the week was the Speedy/Mac's-Easter Plumbing contest, in which the league's two top pitchers battled it out. Debbye Whitley, who was the winning hurler, struck out her 100th batter in the first inning. Loser Tami Ribby also passed the century mark in the seventh inning, but had control problems, walking 16 batters.

More Work Projects Sought by Youngsters

A series of events for youngsters at the Lemon Grove Youth Center was announced this week by Dale Wood, director of the facility.

Saturday he will lead his charges to an area near Grove and Imperial for a general cleanup. "There are several areas that need cleaning," Wood said "but last week when I surveyed close-in streets and lots, the Grove-Imperial area appeared to need a cleanup most."

Population at the Center skyrocketed this week with the coming of school vacation. "I have to find projects to use their energy," Wood said.

One local business firm agreed last week to let the youngsters paint the side of his cement-block building. He will supply paint and brushes, a goodly supply of soft drinks, and contribute a small amount to the Center's recreation fund. Wood said he would supervise the job and see that the work is completed. More such jobs are being sought, he said.

On July 1 the Center's habitues will take part in a beach party. Transportation has already been arranged, Wood said.

On July 15, a dollar car wash will be conducted all day Saturday by the youngsters at the Urich Station on Broadway and New Jersey in Lemon Grove.

To publicize the need for financial and supervisorial aid for the Center, this newspaper has been conducting a telephone campaign. If the listener subscribes, part of the subscription fee is given to the Youth Center Assn. This week these families took part:

Mrs. Victor Hall presented outgoing PTSA president Mrs. Henry Reinecke with a past president pin and a gift from the board.

Rounding out the highlights of the meeting were two of the school's foreign exchange students, Teresa Jiminez and Fernando Larranaga, who told of their experiences in the United States.

Pie Traynor, of the Pittsburgh Pirates, got his nickname when as a youngster playing sandlot ball, a priest would treat the players to ice cream. All except Traynor, who always asked for pie instead.

FEW SPOTS LEFT — San Diego County park campsites are nearly all reserved for the July 4 weekend, but there are still a few spots awaiting reservations at Lawe Morena and Lower Otay Lake for campers,, trailers and tents. Spots may be reserved by calling "239-PARK".

Few Spots Left For Camping

Camping sites in San Diego County parks are almost all reserved for the Independence Day weekend, with a limited number of trailer and tent sites awaiting reservations at Lower Otay and Lake Morena parks, according to Assistant Parks and Recreation Director Lloyd Lowrey.

Lake Jennings Park and Dos Picos reservations are sold out, but a few sites are not on the reservation system and will be allocated on a first come, first served basis, Lowrey said.

"People have heard about out "239-PARK" telephone number and realize they can now reserve camping spaces in county parks and count on a space when they arrive instead of the usual disappointment when they cruise from park to park trying to find a spot.

"They are also rapidly becoming aware that county residents may purchase a special discount card which saves them the reservation fee and gives a discount on campsites. This was Supervisor Scheidle's idea of giving an advantage to local residents who paid for the parks in the first place," Lowrey said.

He said well over 100 cards were sold in the first 10 days and several hundred applications have been sent out to county residents requesting them.

To meet the demand for holiday weekend spaces, Lowrey said the county will keep Lake Morena park open Monday and Tuesday, July 3-4. The park is normally open only Friday through Sunday nights.

"Campers should give more though to visiting our parks during the week and on non-weekend holidays to avoid the hassle and for a more enjoyable outing. For instance, since we take reservations 90 days in advance, Labor Day weekend reservations are already going fast," he said.

Lowrey noted that although every opportunity is being given to give priority to local residents, many reservations are from the Los Angeles area and one is in for a couple due to arrive from New York.

Service Held For Stanley G. Watkins

Prayer services were held last Thursday evening in the Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary Chapel for Stanley G. Watkins, 89, of 3836 El Canto dr., Spring Valley, who died June 13 at his home.

Watkins, a native of New York, lived in this area for 17 years. He was a retired railroad engineer, having been employed with the New York Central line for over 50 years. He was also a veteran of the Spanish American War, serving with the United States Navy.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Leona Shetler, of Lakeside, and a step-daughter, Mrs. Dorthea Sobieski, of Spring Valley. Interment was in Assumption Cemetery in Syracuse, New York.

Sups Balk at Voting Formula Charges CPO County Takeover

A honeymoon without the benefit of marriage between the County Supervisors and the ill-fated S.D. Council of Governments (SANCOG) last year has produced a fatherless child — CPO (Comprehensive Planning Organization).

Tuesday, supervisors renounced the union in its present form — the form having to do with a weighted formula. It appears that the supervisors are having second thoughts about SANCOG, now in limbo, and its offspring CPO.

The major complaint is that CPO is a third level of government seeking authority to collect and spend. Other squawks include the voting which would give S.D. City 40 per cent; the county 30 per cent, with the rest spread among 12 cities of the counties on a population basis. The county wants 50 per cent since its decision making field is already that of the entire county.

CPO came up with the voting formula as the July 1 deadline neared. Its own council told them Monday that its action was illegal — but members adopted it anyway.

Rejection of the weighted voting formula, by which supervisors have less votes than the combined cities, prevents CPO from being an operation agency since it has no power to handle money.

Supervisors are urging county citizens to make their wishes known presumably by letters and by attending meetings concerning CPO. A hearing on regional planning has been called at the state building in San Diego for 10 a.m. July 7. Details are in adjacent story. The board is convinced that CPO, with an independent staff and money powers will be another level of government which isn't needed.

The warning is explicit. It says that CPO, should it take over regional matters, would have to be paid by county taxpayers as an additional tax.

SANCOG Hearing Set in San Diego

Persons wishing to offer testimony regarding SANCOG (S. D. Council of Governments) will have that opportunity Friday, July 7, at 10 a.m. That's when the S. D. County Delegation in the State Legislature will hold a public hearing in room B109, State Building, San Diego.

The proposal to form SANCOG was presented in the final weeks of the 1971 session of Legislature but was withdrawn when many local interests objected. Some said they had no time to study it.

The entire 8-member delegation agreed that the public hearing should be held. These members are Senators Burgener, Mills and Schrade and Assemblymen Deddeh, Chacon, Barnes, Stull and Wilson.

Persons wishing to give testimony should advise the office of Senator Clair W. Burgener, chairman of the delegation, at room 5091, State Capitol, Sacramento, 95814. Letters should be sent by June 26.

Day Camp To Begin Monday

The first of five two-week summer day caamp sessions at the Heartland YMCA will begin Monday for boys and girls between the ages of six and 12.

The day camp meets Monday through Friday and includes experience in archery, riflery, camp skills, crafts, field trips, and swimming. Bus pick-ups and drop-offs will be at centrally located points in the area.

In addition to Saturday's session, new sessions will begin July 10, July 24, August 7, and August 21. Cost for each session is $33 for youngsters who hold a membership in the YMCA, and $37 for those who don't belong to the Y. The $37 includes a one-year membership.

For further details, contact the Y at 466-6161.

Shrine Circus 'Goes Outdoors'

The Al Bahr Shrine circus, the proceeds of which are used for the group's Crippled Childrens' Hospital in Los Angeles, is "going outside" this year.

The circus, produced by Polack Brothers, moves to the 35,000-seat Balboa Stadium for its local presentation Saturday and Sunday. In recent years it has been held in the 13,500-seat Sports Arena.

Handicapped children from various San Diego County facilities will be guests at the circus as in previous years. So will ambulatory service men from local service hospitals, according to Henry Goldy, Al Bahr Shrine Potentate.

Saturday performances will be at 2 and 7:30 p.m. On Sunday performances will be 2 and 6. General admission is $1; reserved seats range from $2-$4. Tickets may be obtained at the gate on circus days or at the Al Bahr Shrine Temple, 5440 Kearny Mesa rd., San Diego.

Spikers Name Coach

Richard Hill, head coach at Southern University, Baton Rouge, has been named Aztecs new track and field coach, succeeding Dick Wells who returned to full-time teaching.

Hill, 36, competed in track and played basketball at Southern. After graduation he won the N. Y. State decathlon title with 7250 points in 1962.

Eldon Meyer Gets Post With LG District

Heights Elementary School this year.

Meyer, a longtime resident of Lemon Grove, lives just around the corner from the school, but last week added the district as his home when he was named permanent principal at the school.

The change came about when Lyn Dougherty, principal at Vista La Mesa School, resigned to take a position as principal of Painted Rock Elementary School in the Poway Unified School District.

Painted Rock, a new school, is scheduled to open in September and has an expected enrollment of 704 students.

Mrs. Dougherty, who has served the Lemon Grove School District for three years, lives in the Poway area and is a member of several civic groups in the area.

With Mrs. Dougherty's departure, the Lemon Grove School District had an opening for Meyer, who has been substituting for Art Thomas at Monterey Heights.

Thomas, who has been on sabbatical leave, will return to the district in the fall as principal at Vista La Mesa, and Meyer will stay at Monterey Heights.

La Mesan To Head County Advisory Board

Mrs. Edwina Cisco, of La Mesa, has been appointed Chairman of the Environmental Development Agency Advisory Board for San Diego County. The appointment was made by Harry Scheidle, Chairman of the County Board of Supervisors.

Mrs. Cisco had served as vice chairman of the board since its appointment in September of 1971.

Scheidle said the seven-member board headed by Mrs. Cisco provides invaluable "non-governmental" citizen assistance to the Board of Supervisors in its responsibilities for regional environmental management.

He said Mrs. Cisco's advisory board has been extremely active in its public service role during its formative nine months of existence.

The citizen group has been deeply involved in such issues as establishing the criteria and process for appointment to the County Planning Commission and is currently providing information to help the Supervisors adopt a policy on cable TV service in the unincorporated areas, he said.

The advisory board has also just embarked on a program to provide input from industry, communities, and civic organizations relative to County land use policies and has begun a review of the County's community planning process.

S.V. Robbery Attempt Fails

An attempted robbery of a Spring Valley optometric shop was foiled last week by a janitor who chased the would-be robber away.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, a male Negro entered the shop and demanded money from receptionist while simulating a pistol in his pocket.

After the receptionist explained that no money was in the shop, the janitor walked by and the receptionist screamed. The suspect fled on foot for a short distance as the janitor chased him, but jumped into a waiting car and got away.

The car, a 1967 Chevrolet, license number 106 VAT, was described as tan with a white top. The check on the license number showed that the car has been recently transferred, but no new owner was registered.

LEGAL OR ILLEGAL? — Signs in the unincorporated areas of San Diego County must conform to a 1966 county sign ordinance. Violations are noted by zoning enforcement officer who counsels owners on legality. Continued and flagrant visual polluters may be cited into court by the district attorney.

S.D. County Zoning Enforcement Officer Is Land-Use Watchdog

Land use ... off-site ... special use permit ... compliance ... non-conforming ... variance. This is the language of Philip Safford, Zoning Enforcement Officer for the County of San Diego.

In 1960, San Diego County had a population of only a little over one million people mostly concentrated along the coastal slopes. The words "ecology" and "environment" were not in everyday use. The residents of unincorporated San Diego County were mostly doing just as they pleased with their property.

Of course, there were building codes and some areas were even zoned by planners, but increasingly intense urbanization was just beginning outside of corporate limits.

By 1971, an increase of 41 per cent in population to almost one and a half million was forcing new housing tracts to sprawl well into the interior regions. Ecology and environment had become everyone's concern.

The Supervisors responded by clamping down on existing codes and ordinances for environmental protection and orderly expansion.

In March of 1971, they authorized the Environmental Development Agency's Planning Department to implement an expanded program of zoning enforcement. Philip Safford was named head of the section and assigned three field inspectors.

Careful surveillance of land uses which adversely affect the environment, periodic inspection of special use permit locations, and responding to complaints of zoning violations were the assigned tasks.

While adverse environmental effects may include visual poolution, air pollution, and noise pollution, only those portions that involve land use in the unincorporated areas come under the scrutiny of the Zoning Enforcement Officer. Off-site signs, billboards, junk in a residential yard, borrow pits, and asphalt batch plants are some of the items he checks.

Previously, zoning enforcement had been assigned to the Building Inspection Department with only one man primarily delegated to survey the entire 3,832 square miles of unincorporated San Diego County.

Far from being a police agency, Safford explains his role as being an arbiter.

"After an apparent offender has the ordinance or code explained to him, there is better than an 80 per cent chance that the offense was committed unwittingly and that corrective actions are started immediately," he said.

In 1966, the Board of Supervisors passed a tight control on signs with a five-year amortization proviso for non-conforming signs before they had to be removed.

"A survey completed in March of 1972, utilizing the services of UCSD students under a Federal work-study grant, found approximately 525 illegal signs and 615 signs which were non-conforming under the definition of the County code," Safford said.

The owners and users of the signs which are illegal or may soon become so under the code are currently being notified of their unlawful status.

An especially touchy facet of Safford's job is notifying a homeowner that his property is so full of trash that it is in violation of the trash ordinance. Most persons who allow things to accumulate also prize the junk as having a potential value, according to Safford, otherwise they wouldn't collect it.

"Telling a man he must haul away things of value calls for a lot of tact. He usually cannot accept the idea that his neighbors consider the junk an eyesore," he continued.

Abandoned automobiles in a residential zone are oftimes illegal, too, but there are householders who claim to be car collectors. Asked if zoning enforcement can interfere with a hobby, Safford replied, "It depends. We aren't out to harass a person who has a legitimate hobby or collection, but there is a line which we can draw. If it gets to be a neighborhood nuisance, then we must talk turkey with the owner."

Explaining the mechanics of zoning complaints, Safford said that when arbitration and appeals to aesthetic or legal sense fail to achieve a goal, then he must seek action from the District Attorney. He supports requests with documentation, photographs, and witnessess as necessary.

"The total effort of this office is to make the County a better place in which to live," concluded Safford. "We may occasionally make some people angry or upset, but we try to make things as easy as we can. We keep the overall benefit of the most people our goal, always remembering that we are not a police agency."
